

BUILDING LOVE THAT LAST A LIFETIME!

Have you ever wondered, 'Is it possible to bring real love, love that lasts a lifetime into my marriage?' Have you ever asked, 'How can I grow closer to my spouse, to forgive the hurts and wounds of the past and love them the way Christ does?' If you are starting out in marriage, where do you go to find out what God says about marriage? Where do you get practical tools for building a dynamic marriage?

For over a million couples across the U.S., the answer has been to attend the FamilyLife Weekend to Remember marriage conference. Listen to what recent attendees are saying...

"We shared things we never were able to talk about before. We came thinking it was going to be just a lot of fun and a time away. What it turned out to be was a new direction for our marriage and family!" - Married 12 yrs.

Another couple reported, "The conference has changed our marriage from dead in the water to a breath of fresh air. It has opened our hearts to each other" – Married 33 yrs.

Other couples like Dave and Shirley Bauman attend every year to continue building into their marriage. Dave says, "The Weekend to Remember was like a second honeymoon to us. We were able to get away and focus on each other for an entire weekend. We realize that the best thing we can do for our kids is to learn to love each other well and make our relationship a priority. Since then, we've attended each year... we love it!"

For the past several years, the annual FamilyLife "Weekend to Remember" Marriage Conference in Cedar Rapids has offered couples an opportunity to getaway, re-connect, and experience a life-changing weekend together. Couples discover purpose, experience encouragement, and find hope for their relationship. Spending a weekend in a relaxed hotel setting, free from the distractions of everyday life, couples learn how to:

- Communicate more effectively
- Resolve conflict
- Develop greater intimacy
- Renew the excitement they felt early in marriage

FamilyLife's speakers include authors, executives, ministers, and psychologists, who are also people just like you – husbands, wives, fathers, and mothers. For the first time, many couples truly understand God's blueprints for marriage and the biblical principals that enable them to build a strong, healthy relationship for a lifetime.

Throughout the weekend, couples have the opportunity to complete several projects that give practical tools to apply what they are learning in their own home. Saturday night is a special Date Night! It may be one of the most memorable evenings you and your spouse have experienced together!

Whether your marriage needs practical skills and a solid foundation for everyday living, simply a time of refreshment, or hope for the future... Experience a Weekend to Remember. You will be glad you did!
